

RobotWise

Socializing through technology

Talent development with social robots

Interactive, gamified
lesson and training programs,
with social robots as a tool,
for People Centric Solutions.

Increasing equal opportunities in the labor market through gamified learning and programming social robots.

Organizations

We motivate professionals and their teams to increase both their operational effectiveness and their quality of work and life, in today's rapidly changing and digitizing society.

Through gamified teambuilding, professional and leadership development programs, we stimulate authentic behavior. Our programs are designed to meet business needs and corporate themes. They can also be integrated to existing personal and professional development programs.

RobotWise triggers creative ideas and let people experience the huge opportunities of robotics for People Centric Solutions.

In a playful manner we provide an immersive experience, connecting technical and soft skills, allowing people to discover their hidden talents and abilities.

Schools & colleges

We prepare young people and their teachers for a rapidly digitizing society, develop their 21st Century Skills and help them discover their talents.

Our gamified lesson and co-teacher programs are designed to meet the different worlds of experience and levels of learning. We integrate gamification and robots to the existing curriculum and themes, for talent development.
